You say that the well's run dry
And there's no more tears to cry
You're searching for something real
To make you feel

You know that you're incomplete
A song with a broken beat
There's a hole in all our hearts
And there's a reason why

We were born to be
A part of something holy
All of us are restless
'Til we find

We were born to be
A part of something holy

Bigger than, bigger than
Bigger than you and I
Bigger than all our lives

The hunger you feel inside
That keeps you unsatisfied
It pulls at you constantly
Like gravity

This world never was enough
We're made for a deeper love
There's a hole in all our hearts
It's part of our design

We were born to be
A part of something holy
All of us are restless
'Til we find

We were born to be
A part of something holy

Bigger than, bigger than
Bigger than you and I

Bigger than, bigger than
Bigger than all our lives

All our lives we long for something more
The life that we were all created for

We were born to be
A part of something holy
All of us are restless
'Til we find

We were born to be
A part of something holy

Bigger than, bigger than
Bigger than you and I
Bigger than, bigger than
Bigger than all our lives

It's bigger than you and I
