"your body aches from all the alcohol you've drank but you tell yourself that you're still in control, whoa and this chicks been talking for so long about herself that you hope all of this listening pays off soon well you heard that this was easy and you understand that every man has a certain set things he has to prove you were only 16 about an hour ago and well you did not fear what you did not know you went upstairs to get what you've been waiting for you took 3 deep breaths and held her hand real tight you whispered take it slow and turned off the lights you wonder if she's done this kind of thing before this kind of thing before

16 candles are on this bed tonight and with every piece of clothing you take off they die these 16 candles will burn out tonight and the fire wont rekindle once the last flame dies you wake up over sure that something is a mess the light beside the bed is on your stomach hurts your pants are gone the bits and pieces of the night fade in and out you just cant comprehend so you go and ask a friend he said he saw you go upstairs a girl with darkish brownish hair that you sort of kind of don't really remember do you remember

and with every piece of clothing you take off they die
and the fire wont rekindle once the last flame dies

and with every piece of clothing you take off they die
and the fire wont rekindle once the last flame dies
