At the edge of the day
there was nothing left and nobody could care about me in your yard filled with toys i was passing time with a friend, imaginary won't you come, i'll be gone

today
won't you come.

come on down to my house theres a swimming pool and it's winning over everybody in a town i call home i wouldnt look at life but it never seems to look at me

wont' you come.
