I can't live my life the way you want me to Thoughts fall away everyday from the truth, but the truth of the matter is I can't be like you

Tearing away at everything I do
You think you know me, but you won't even hear me
Nothing compares to the way that I feel

LOOK - look at the way that I feel
FEEL - the pain inside that you instill
STILL - every single move that I make
Your words are like daggers they shatter my existence

LOOK - look at the way that I feel
FEEL - the pain inside that you instill
STILL - talking to me like you own me, but don't breath
God forbid you miss something

Defy the time you tried to strip me of my wings,
And draw the line through all that I believe

I remember everything that you said
The tears I hide, they make me die inside, a verbal knife to the life and the dreams I possess

I can forgive, but I will never forget
The love you showed me, nothing but a show to see
Nothing compares to the way that I feel

LOOK - look at the way that I feel
FEEL - the pain inside that you instill
STILL - every single move that I make
Your words are like daggers they shatter my existence

LOOK - look at the way that I feel
FEEL - the pain inside that you instill
STILL - talking to me like you own me, but don't breath
God forbid you miss something

Defy the time you tried to strip me of my wings
And draw the line through all that I believe

If I could see the light and wipe away this pain
I'd shine so bright through what is few and far between

INSIDE - I see what's inside of you
INSIDE - I see what's inside of you

Defy the time you tried to strip me of my wings
And draw the line through all that I believe
If I could see the light and wipe away this pain
I'd shine so bright through what is few and far between
