You left me here
it's not just your life when i couldn't see
it's not just my life i'm pulling strings away from your perfect web of thread and needle

nothing left for me so i just sit here wasting away so that you can get your head clear so many times i've tried to run but you pulled my head right into your gun

you left me here as i'm falling apart you were the only one to save me your lies are crystal clear as they tear through my heart now you're the only one to break me

take her away

i couldn't believe
it's not just your life
how you could deceive
it's not just my life
this state i'm under makes me wonder when i'm gone who will you bleed next i can't believe the things you did to me but it's like that way inside where no one else can see

so many times i tried to run
