Give me your heart I will kill your pain
Hold my hand I will light up your way
Give me your world give me something to lean on
To lean on
I give you my heart I will always be true
I do anything I do it all for you
I give you my world shoulder is here for you to lean on
To lean on

If you are tired, just leap it off
If you are worried, just take it off
If you are lonely, just look me up
If you are down, I'll drag you up
If you get rejected, just don't give up
If you loose your arm, you just keep it up
If you are lonely, just look me up
If you are down, I'll drag you up

Don't take life too seriously
Be skeptical take a look at me
Life is a gift you get it all for free
This is real so real
I'm all alone I gotta take it to right
I suddenly feel I got nothing to hide
Everybody needs someone to lean on
To lean on

If you are tired, just leap it off
If you are worried, just take it off
If you are lonely, just look me up
If you are down, I'll drag you up
If you get rejected, just don't give up
If you loose your arm, you just keep it up
If you are lonely, just look me up

If you get rejected, just don't give up
If you loose your arm, you just keep it up
If you are lonely, just look me up
If you are down, I'll drag you up
