the stars they dont shine tonight a broken heart can be one of the most painful things i was counting on you to hold on to me to hold on to this i believed your lies and your stupid heartache stories i believed all of your phony alibis there's no way i'd take you back tonight when this is over and i dont see you i wont be hurt but you'll be blue you'll miss the sweet things i used to do i did them all for you, for you so go ahead and keep on your light switch and cry yourself to sleep you deserved it cause of the selfish things you say i cant blame you for everything well sorry to say it but it was all your fault

next time try not to get caught yeah next time try not to get caught
