In my youth no love held me strong
That's okay it never stayed for long

That's why so long ago I just walked away
I knew it was not the place I should stay

You know it's not something I regret
But somehow it still haunts me yet, yeah

Can you...hear the static

Can you hear the static, it's coming from the attic
Whispering things not said from days long dead

Listen to the static, it's coming from the attic
Well I locked that door and I don't go there no more

Can you...hear the static

Can you hear the static, it's coming from the attic
I can no longer fly and I fell from the sky

Listen to the static, it's coming from the attic
But how can that be when it coming from me how can that be when it's coming from me

Can you...hear the static

I've gone the way that life has shown
But now I choose to go it alone

It isn't good and it isn't bad
It doesn't make me happy, but it doesn't make me sad

These old ghost keep on talking to me
If I could I would set them free, yeah

Can you...hear the static

Can you hear the static, it's coming from the attic
Whispering things not said from days long dead

Listen to the static, it's coming from the attic
Well I locked that door and I don't go there no more

Can you...hear the static

Can you hear the static, it's coming for the attic
I can no longer fly and I fell from the sky

Listen to the static, it's coming from the attic
But how can that be when it's coming from me
yeah, how can that be when it's coming from me

Can you...hear the static

Unwanted memories are put away
In the attic is where they linger today

When I see signs of change ahead
They revive and wake from the dead

Drifting through the ceiling and the door
Reminding me of what I don't want anymore, yeah

Can you...hear the static

Can you hear the static, it's coming from the attic
Whispering things not said from days long dead

Listen to the static, it's coming from the attic
Well I locked that door and I don't go there no more

Can you...hear the static

Can you hear the static, it's coming for the attic
I can no longer fly and I fell from the sky

Listen to the static, it's coming from the attic
But how can that be when it's coming from me
Yeah, how can that be when it's coming from me
Yeah, how can that be when it's coming from me
Yeah, how can that be when it's coming from me
Yeah, how can that be when it's coming from me
Oh yeah, oh yeah, oh yeah

Can you...hear the static...
