Back in spring of ninety-five, so naive and so alive
Where do we go, where do we go from here?
When the days were long, and the grass was cool
Kissing you by the swimming pool
Where do we go, where do we go from here?

Now it's not that simple, it's not that simple
Tonight, tonight, everything is right
Tonight, tonight, take me back to nineteen ninety-five
We're not innocent, our jaded hearts have grown apart
Take me back in time tonight, tonight

American girl big dreams, wide eyed
When life was sweet like apple pie
Where do we go, where do we go from here?
Virginia beach on a starry night
I held you close under the moonlight
Where do we go, where do we go from here?

Now it's not that simple, it's not that simple
Tonight, tonight, everything is right
Tonight, tonight, take me back to nineteen ninety-five
We're not innocent, our jaded hearts have grown apart
Take me back in time tonight, tonight

Tonight, tonight
Life was simple when we were younger
Let's make this simple, just try a little

Tonight, tonight, everything is right
Tonight, tonight, take me back to nineteen ninety-five
We're not innocent, our jaded hearts have grown apart
Take me back in time tonight, tonight
