"Die young"

Oh, I don't wanna leave.
I just wanna lay here,
And watch you breathe.
I don't know what happened,
Things got out of hand.
I have not been myself lately.
My thoughts are wandering.

Your eyes, I'm drawn in, your eyes.
You're out of reach.
And I can't help myself.

It's a lie, we knew it all along.
Love is gonna die, were gonna die young.

Fool, I'm not looking for love.
I told you that I just wanna dance.
In the mornings, you stay a little too long.
And your eyes, they glow a little too much.
Warning signs, red flags.
I lost, and I can't save you now.

It's a lie, we knew it all along.
Love is gonna die, were gonna die young.
