Hey you, what you've been up to
It's been about a week or two
Since I last talked to you
Just wanna know what's going on
I'm chillin in my room
I'm killin' time just thinking about you
And those things that we've been through

The cold is coming to take its place
You see it coming so embrace
The cold is coming to take its place
You see it coming so embrace

And this is the coldest night of them all
The rain will freeze and snow will fall
Onto the ground and I'm fallin down
I'm stuck here for another day

I'm drivin in my car round town, down town
Hoping I might find you sanding there
Like the star you are when all the guys they're in the car
They start to scream your name and it drives me insane

The cold is coming to take its place
You see it coming so embrace
The cold is coming to take its place
You see it coming so embrace

And this is the coldest night of them all
The rain will freeze and snow will fall
Onto the ground and I'm fallin down
I'm stuck here for another day

I gave you everything and you just walked out of me
I gave you everything
I gave you everything and you just walked out of me
I gave you everything

And this is the coldest night of them all
The rain will freeze and snow will fall

Onto the ground and I'm fallin down
I'm stuck here for another day

And this is the coldest night of them all
The rain will freeze and snow will fall
Onto the ground and I'm fallin down
I'm stuck here for another day

Good bye with your eyes and they're rollin
Good bye with your eyes and they're rollin
Good bye with your eyes and they're rollin
Good bye with your eyes and they're rollin

Good bye with your eyes and they're rollin
Good bye with your eyes and they're rollin
Good bye with your eyes and they're rollin

Too many times you're right and I'm wrong
This time you're right now what's wrong
