Jamie loves him but she doesn't want to leave this place today
She acts like everything's okay
B-Money, he could get the hunnies
But he chases them all away
And he blushes when they say his name
Did you really think it'd last for good?
Just jump ship like you would
Did you really think it'd last for good?
And every night, when he cries
He lies awake to realize
He's nothing without you
And though your picture still remains
Lying in that broken frame
He's nothing without you.
Terry's good at school but it drove him crazy
He dropped out because he's lazy
Now he works the night shift all alone
Sarah had a man but she lost him
To her best friend double crossin'
Now she knows what it's like to be alone
And did you really think it'd last for good?
Just jump ship like you would
Did you really think it'd last for good?
And every night, when he cries

He lies awake to realize
He's nothing without you
And though your picture still remains
Lying in that broken frame
He's nothing without you
He's nothing
He's nothing
He's nothing without you
Whoa, whoa
And every night, when he cries
He lies awake to realize
He's nothing without you
And though your picture still remains
Lying in that broken frame
He's nothing without you

And did you really think it'd last for good?
Just jump ship like you would
Did you really think it'd last for good?
Whoa, whoa
And did you really think it'd last for good?
Just jump ship like you would
Did you really think it'd last for good?
Whoa, whoa
