When you see her, please tell her
That I still care, care about her
And if she sees me, She'll tell me
That she should have, just killed me

Let's try this one more time
And get it right
Let's try this one more time
And get it right

My pictures torn in half
And facing down
My head is all shook up
And spinning around

When you see her, please tell her
That I still care, care about her
Let's try this one more time
And get it right
Let's try this one more time
And get it right

Broken wings and broken dreams
Are too played
Maybe I'll cut my hair
And stab you in the back

Lets try this one more time
And we can work it out
Lets try this one more time
So we can work it out

Lets try this, Just one last time
And get it right
Lets try this, Just one last time
And get it right
Lets try this, Just one last time

When you see her, please tell her
That I still care, care about her
If she sees me, She'll tell me

That she should have, just killed me

Did you see her?

Did you tell her, that I still care?

Care about her

I know she told me, I know she told me

That she should have, Just killed me
