My dreams never lasted long enough to feel alright maybe tomorrow I wont wake up again shake me so I can tell you I'm still breathing but I'm lost I haven't given up just yet... your eyes blind me...

never again will I see you the way I did last September,
every night
never again will I see you the way I did last September,
every night
cross my heart and hope to die take your picture from my mind and maybe this will be over.
cross my heart and hope to die take your picture from
my mind and maybe this will be over.

chew up the pieces of my heart now we are right back where we started.
I tried again I tried and I failed....
break me up again...
I think I wish I hope I try to make it just one more night
without you, without you...
I think I wish I hope I try to make it just one more night
without you, without you...

I cross my heart and hope to die and stick a needle in
my eye
I cross my heart and hope to die and stick a needle in
my eye
