

Day To Remember, A "A Shot in the Dark" lets take them back to the days when we were family my breath was your breath when we were young i think it's funny how the times have changed throw being jealous in the mix and now all i know of you is a name couldn't have came at a better time this ends right now we gave all of ourselves to entertain you were only hurting us (ourselves) i'm a god amongst the ants and your girlfriends and you act like you don't even know it's cause you haven't been here for too long i called this right from the start i turn my back for one second now all i hear is a shot in the dark use my name like you know me you're all the same

keep running your mouth mark my words were taking over the world
