I've never felt so sober
I've never felt the low that I feel tonight
Your words made everything drag on, and on I finally found her, and when I did I just couldn't make things right
This is really happening?
Oh god I think I just ruined my life

What the fuck am I doing?
I can't tell the difference from wrong and right
I second guess my decisions
Cause I haven't been this person in my whole life
I think I need something new here
But I keep longing for what I had No need for second opinions
I do the best I can to ruin what I have Come on!

Don't think you've gotta go it alone here
I've got nothing left to hide
You've got time
Just make up your mind

I thought this was what you wanted
Someone who gets everything right
(Gets everything right)
I thought this was what you wanted
Someone to put you first in their life
Cause we're running out of time

Lets have three cheers for the new year
Here's to hoping it's not as bad
This wasn't part of my vision
The optimist in me swore we could make this last, but no
You ruined my favorite records
I listen to them and I think of you
I just hope you remember
All of the countless times that I believed in you
For what?

Don't think you've gotta go it alone here
You've got time
Just make up your mind

I thought this was what you wanted
Someone who gets everything right
(Gets everything right)
I thought this was what you wanted
Someone to put you first in their life
Cause we're running out of time

Just know that it kills me
When I hear anything to do with you
You don't see it, but believe me
I need to be right where you are
You know that I'm leaving (leaving)
And you won't hear until a year from now
But this kills me (this kills me)
Cause now I hate that everything's, everything's about you

I thought this was what you wanted
Someone who gets everything right
(Gets everything right)
I thought this was what you wanted
Someone to put you first in their life
Cause we're running out of time

Don't think you've gotta go it alone here
You've got time
Just make up your mind
