Together we'll find the way out from your endless maze
You have to believe me somehow
That this is not a game
You used to see from your heart
But hollow hearts forget
You need to read between the lines of what i'm trying to say

Refren:

The more you dream the less you can see whats real
Open your eyes now
To find yourself you'll have to break chains of steel Open your heart now there is no more light inside your soul to kill Trying so hard to see Something you'll never be

You don't have to die to find hell
Search behind your smile
I'll wait for you patiently there to say my last good-byes
You want to see through my eyes but you won't find a prize
I'll be a murder to commit
A place you all can fit

Refren

Remember who you are
Before you go too far
You've lost this game
It's over time is up, is up, is up

They said that you were wrong
You fought back with a song

It's not too late
Keep fighting don't give up
Don't let us down

Refren (x2)
