There is something light in your hand,
Something that warms the heart
There is something when you're here warms me up,
Something that captures my attention and disarm us

Refrain (Re):

You do it, much more than the sun

The shape of your arms over mine,
The time of my eyes on yours
Down on your shoulders to prove
All you asked to take away

Re: (x3) Fazes muito mais que o sol
You do it much more...

You have strong (sun)rays to burn
All the ice cold that I construct
You enter in my blood slowly
And I overflow(3) inside you

(3 - not the word I wanted, the idea is this: a glass of water continues to drop water inside and you will overflow the glass, now in a romantic terms change glass to body and water to love)

You have white rays as a river,
I am who leaves the dark to see you,
You have pure rays in the moonlight,
I am who yells deep for you only to have you

Re: (x3) Fazes muito mais que o sol
You do it much more...

I want to see the colors that you see
To know the dance that you are
I want to be the wind that makes you
I want to be in the area where you are

Lets be so light your hand,
To be as simple the song
Don't let flowers the breath
To be easier to find you

Re: (x3) Fazes muito mais que o sol
You do it much more...

Come break the fear, comes
Whether there are after
And feel that we are two,
But together we are more

I want to be the reason for you to be greater
I want to offer you my very best
I want to be the reason for you to be greater
I want to offer you my very best
