Humpty-dumpty got so drunk he thought that he could sing
Now every rag and glossy mag thinks he's the next big thing
Watch the floodgates swinging open
Now the heart of rock and roll is broken

Mary, mary, only rarely have i heard such shit
But still the djs give you three plays every nine minutes Shall the truth be left unspoken
Now the heart of rock and roll is broken?

Jack and jill popped every pill till every thrill was gone
They looked inside and could not find the will to carry on My worst fears have re-awoken:
Now the heart of rock and roll is broken
