And to even learn from pain
the meaning of joy again oh, how I love you, eternity!

And even if you spin round and round and don't make any ground that's even more beautiful to me!

Because you say 'yes!' to life and even to all of it's striving I'll always love you, eternity!

And because I can create my own meaning and fate my heart cheers you onward and friends we'll be!

And I know that unless I don't love myself I won't resent anything else for, it's all your dancing and please dance with me!

And when I do not love myself I'll at least learn to laugh at myself and love you with laughter so that you'll see that even without a reason my heart whispers to me,

'I love you, eternity!'
