Turning my memories
Hoping to find out where all the loyalty's gone
The friends that I had then
Turned into strangers
Thinking of you all along
If you see me now
You won't see me alone
If you see me
I'll be heading home
'Cause this is my town
This is my city
Through my eyes, looks so pretty
This is my town, this is my city now
These are my people, this is my song
Dirty streets where I belong
This is my town, this is my city now
This is my city now
Burning these pages
Our broken story
Words are just strangers to me
Thought we could work this out
I was wrong
You put the desperate doubt into me
If you see me now
You won't see me alone
If you see me
I'll be heading home
'Cause this is my town
This is my city
Through my eyes it looks so pretty
This is my town, this is my city now
These are my people, this is my song
Dirty streets where I belong

This is my city now
