Reason4s just a narrow path from which we diverge too easiely

Entagle ourselves in contrdiction, web our own trap in lies

Brood hypocrisy and anger, 4till noone knows what4s wrong or right

Disbelief our best friends and swear to be faithful

Solitude surrounds you but you have no lesson learned

Now the name is blackened, now you try to turn

The name is burning and you4re yearning to be free
For 1000 lies 1000 eyes are watching you

Since the beginning of all time it4s an endless turning circle

Propanganda, promises, phrases without content

Sometimes it brings you to the top and also often down

A life without a lie□this was your first

Solitude surrounds you but you have no lesson learned

The name is burning and you4re yearning to be free
For 1000 lies 1000 eyes are watching you
