fire by Dizzy Man's Band Maniac in town tried to burn it all down the piromaniac who looks like me and you but I know his name and I don't think he's insane it is me and I just like to raise a fire they all try to catch me but me and my matches are illusive 'cause I'm too intelligent it's a reflexion to get my satisfaction from this prickly heat that I just can't stop with a little bit fire that I'm gonna get higher I want it, I need it and I love it so.

See how it burns see how they turn and I, I only have to laugh Ha ha ha, houses on fire and I think I'll retire to be alone, alone with my big appeasement firebrigade in action to distinguish my deflexion but I'm just standing here and I watch it town is in commotion and I'm here with my emotion I know that it's unfair but all I have to care, for a litle bit fire and I'm gonna get higher and I want it, I need it and I love it so.

Nobody knows just where he goes we don't know his name all we know he's insane.
