Cuando sientes que tu amor
Va saliendo de tu vida y nunca regresarÃ¡
Cuando ella diga "Adios y buena suerte
No estoy interesada, tu amor no vale nada"

There comes a time when love becomes a trial
And some they will survive and some are sure to fail
No matter what you do it's not enough
For she is as sure as she can be
That she no longer cares to love you

So go on alone, your future is your own
For she has told you now
The time has come to follow different paths

How long will it take you to forget her?
How long for the love to finally die?
How long will her spirit live within you?
Help me, I can no longer cry

So take your life in hand and live it day by day
One moment at a time 'til death comes to collect you Remember all the love, beyond just simple caring Obsessively compelling, but ultimately so telling

Y parece que sabÃ¡s que algÃºn dÃ­a Iba a vivir ese momento ya pasado
No mientas ya no llores por tu amor
La vida continÃºa, olvida tu dolor, hermano mÃ¡s
Todo todo ha pasado estaba destinado

It took me too much time to realize that it was over
There was no more me and you
Now my life has changed completely There's an empty place that once belonged to you, yeah

I gave up on you, that's the hardest thing I've ever had to do
Giving up on you, I gave up on you I have nothing left to lose

Even though I know you'll never really face yourself
Or put your trust in someone else that's just the same
As asking all of us to turn away and just give up on you

Every day is different for me now
The air is clear, and the daily worry too, all the time
Easier to repossess, my confidence was weak
I was trapped in loving you

I gave up on you even with the sadness it would surely bring
I gave up on you, I gave up on you even knowing what I do
I was giving up the pain of living without you
My life will never be the same
So I will once again do as you wish, give up on you

I feel so common now my love of decades
Won't you really pass too late?
Hatred's born of demons must be driven from destruction
Now must fight for its own sake

I gave up on you, I'd no more time to waste
I gave up on you, I'd harder things to face
I gave up on you, I've finished with the chase
I gave up on you, while I can still forget the bitter taste
And memories that overcome me seeming to be trying to convince me
That life is nothing but a time to waste, I gave up on you
