the one who reads the star's she's tellin' ya
Why you're not like everyone
Your father is a fiery wizard travels all around the sun
Nobody ever knew where you came from Orphan girl, you grew up wild
Your father left you on the way home
Yes, girl, you're a Jupiter child

Wish I knew the way back
Back to where you came
Gladly I would leave here
Take another name
I can tell by you, it must be true
It's up on Jupiter's face
They don't embrace thier own disgrace
Somebody, help me off this place

You never really quite belonged
Like a pearl among the swine
You tried to live the way we do
Hoping you would learn in time
But, mankind, with all it's virtue
Will soon make you lose your smile
On this earth, with all it's madness
Heaven help a Jupiter child

Wish I knew the way back
Right to where you came
Gladly I would leave here
Take another name
I can tell by you, it must be true
It's up on Jupiter's face
They don't embrace thier own disgrace
Somebody, get me off this place
