Let me tell you what they told me, pull me up and choke
me
Cut me up and roughed me, now I'm standing on my own He kicked me down and broke me, held me down and choked me
Swung me round and pushed me, now there's nowhere left to go
And now I'm looking through you, someone that I once knew Break me down and kill me, cause I mean nothing at all Rip me up wide open, all the lies were spoken Hanging on the wire, it's too late for you to call

Let me get away from here
This place is dead, bad atmosphere
There's nothing to do, and now the feeling's gone
I'm writing to you, and it's just another love song

Now I can't sleep at night, twitching in the spotlight Wake me up, I'm screaming, is there something I should know?
The demon's coming through me, lock me up, confuse
me
Slow me down and ... there's nowhere left to go (?)

Let me get away from here
This place is dead, bad atmosphere
There's nothing to do, and now the feeling's gone

It's just another love song
It's just another love song
It's just another love song
