It took me years to find this place
It took me years to find this place
Got my feet in the water and my eyes on a reflection of my face
Seems like freedom is just a few steps away
I'm prepared yes I'm ready there's no reason to hesitate
And everyone's here I hate to see them cry
I know they want me to stay and forever be a land floating fish
Oh but I can't

I still hear you say dreams will be dreams
You say life could be better but hey that doesn't matter to me
You don't understand and you never will
For me there's a difference I think life is so distant from you
There's so much at stake but nothing to lose
I'd rather die in the water than forever be a land floating fish

Won't someone come with me?
I can teach you how to swim
