Poisoned hearts and crowded minds
Searching for love in a mesh of lies
Where's my angel?
Where's my angel?
Everything essential to me
Seem unwanted by the air that I breathe
I'm a stranger
Just the stranger

When will life take us back into its arms?
When will life take us?
Take us back into your arms!

Make me feel unworthy, I'll look up to you
Fill me up with hatred, I give you my youth
I don't care
Never learned to
With a head full of booze every other night
And A life-size screen I blank out the void
That I bear
Oh what I bear

When will life take us back into its arms?
When will life take us?
Take us back into your arms!

As long as fear controls our beliefs
Freedom will be a word
As long as we are stuck in history
We won't know love at all

Where else can we go from here if not inside ourselves?

Oh how wasted can a life be?
If smashing a smile that's what you need
Just to feel it

Can you feel it?
For every button you push to your virtual war
There's a real bullet tearing a real head apart
You're making me sick

As long as fear controls our beliefs
Freedom will be a word
As long as we are stuck in history
We won't know love at all

We don't know love at all
You don't know love at all
I don't know love at all
