With every silent smile I fake
I teach myself how to erase
Each and every piece of pride
I can't offer you a thing
Of what I wanted you to give
You don't know how I wish I could say

I know that I'm honest to myself
I know I'll never be someone else
I know who I am

And so I sing this lullaby
You know I gave up trying to cry
Just to feel a truth
Trust me when you close your eyes
And the wind is on our side
You will hear me singing to myself

I know that I'm honest to myself
I know now and then I'm someone else
But I know who I am

Something inside of me
Keeps telling me the truth
Someday I'll shout it out
Yeah I'll shout it out to you

I know that I'm honest to myself
I know they won't bring me down again
Cause I know who I am
