I praise you like you were my saviour
You were brought to bring me down
I was the lonliest kid with the biggest heart
Now I know it's called friendship

I have some friends I rely on
I have some friends I don't really need
I have some friends on drugs
I have some friends that believe in God and other shit

And it keeps to amaze me
How different we really are
We are friends for life
But for some it's just not enough

Here we go now and here it dies
Here we stand proud with our
Fists raised up in the sky

I have some friends on the wrong side
I have some friends that walk the line
I have some friends that are dead
I have some friends that move on
I have some friends who don't give a fuck

We are the voice of friendship
We're like a landslide on the move
We're thicker than blood
We're like a gasoline bomb
We are high flammable power

And it keeps to amaze me
How different we really are
We are friends for life
But for some it's just not enough

Here we go now and here it dies
Here we stand proud with our
Fists raised up in the sky

Alright brothers, are you with me?

Yeah all the way
Are we gonna stand up for eachother?
'Til the bitter end

I need my blood and family
Like love needs pain
Fuck them, fuck this world
United we will win
