I've always heard that love is blind
But I know that there's another kind
Shines like a beacon in the night
And holds up in the morning light

'Cause in my dreams she travels with me when I run
And in my dreams she takes my hand
When I make my stand but morning always comes
And I know it's too good to be true
She loves me even when I'm blue

No one can say that I ain't tried
I keep on searching far and wide
'Cause I know she's out there somewhere now
I'm gonna track her down somehow

'Cause in my dreams she travels with me when I run
And in my dreams she takes my hand
When I make my stand but morning always comes
And I know she's looking for love too
She loves me even when I'm blue

'Cause in my dreams she travels with me when I run
And in my dreams she takes my hand
When I make my stand but morning always comes
And I know it's too good to be true
She loves me even when I'm blue

She loves me even when I'm blue
