Standin' on the corner, waiting for the snow
Wishin' I was a little warmer, wondering where to go
I saw a man break down today, break down into tears
Tonight I feel so far away from home

Who can I confide in? Who can really hear?
Who can keep my secrets? Who can see me clear?
I saw a man break down today, break down into tears
Tonight I feel so far away from home

Watch out there mama with your TV blues
Go walkin' lightly in your high-heeled shoes
Look out there mister since ya seen so much
Go lightly flyin' on your graveyard crutch

People seeking people, standing on the earth
Reaching for connection, they know what it's worth
I saw a man break down today, break down, down into tears
Tonight I feel so far away from home
