Open to falling in love again
I can't say that I ever fell out
I feel so far from you in this distant land
All that's fixed keeps us connected

Send my love through a satellite
Cause I, wanna feel like you're here tonight
When your love is a blinding light
I don't know why I closed my eyes
To the one thing I can't deny

I held you - I kissed you on the Calvert Bridge
Your tears dismissed me to the red light train
I said "baby, someday, this will all make sense"
She dropped my hand, she said, "tell me when it does
Oh please, tell me when it does".

You can send my love through a satellite
And I, I could feel like you're here tonight
When your love is a blinding light, light
I don't know why I closed my eyes
To the one thing I can't deny

Heart is found in the underground
You reached for me but I'm not there to hold
You never wanna feel like this
You never wanted to but;
Love is when they come and go
And empty room inside us both
And I wish there was something I could do
To be more than a satellite for you

Send my love through a satellite
Cause I, wanna feel like you're here tonight
When your love is a blinding light, light
I don't know why I closed my eyes
To the one thing I can't deny

Can't deny
Said I can't deny
I don't know why, I don't know why
