Joey!

Let's go back in the days before your present Back when it was a little more pleasant Before I knew this rap shit would ever lure me in Let's go back like Mike Fox in the Delorean Back in the day shit, back to the basics
When brass knuckles used to leave a nigga face ticked
Its back to the Diadoras and the Asics It's back to the New Editon and The Take 6

I'm Number one, one, one, one
Damn it feels good to see hip-hop sayin somethin'

Let's go way back if you able to do the math yeah
I'm talkin' bout the pool table in the cafe yeah
When the strip was introduce to Paruiqo Commodore 64 and Coleco
Not back to Cali back to the valley Back to dapadere yall back to Bally's Back before Puma and Stange'
Before Zhane and go a little further back to Kwame Damn we came a long way

I'm Number one, one, one, one Damn it feels good to see hip-hop ?

I remeber break dancin' cardboards and backflips the royal blue and the orange Patricks wudn't like you homo sucka's I had the low top Converse cause I could change my logos color
I remember way back when every clan was stylin' Flava Flav clocks and X-Clan medallions In class see a girl you glance at her pass her a note do you like me? Circle a answer

I'm Number one, one, one, one
Damn it feels good to see hip-hop sayin somethin

Winters not the best time warm it up Kane had came through

The eight ball jackets and Columbia Rain suits
We ain't pay minds to the length of our chains Transformers was a dance Decepticons was a gang yall I'm talkin bout sheep skins Talkin bout wearn two pair of jeans when moms gave me a beatin'
after school three o clock we was able to fight park dibs yall two turn tables and mike like

I'm Number one, one, one, one
Damn it feels good to see hip-hop sayin somethin

What about when Public Enemy came out and they dropped a classic or the Pee-Wee Herman and the Roger Rabbit and the nerds took our tests and they passed em for us back to the roof top back to latin quarters the olds school's new school now it's the same ol It's back to Fila's, gazelles and Kango's It's back to 40 ounces back to OE
Not back to rope chains but back to Gold teeth
I was the class clown just snappin at cats
Let's go back to the (?) with the matchin' hats Remember the Real Roxanne remember all (?) Remember Kool Moe Dee remember Lord Finesse
I bumped Run-D.M.C. almost every weekend
The Bronx and Queensbridge just couldn't stop beefin'
Kept it on wax they ain't have to pack heat
Back to Ron Zee tapes back to Black Sheep

I'm Number one, one, one, one
Damn it feels good to see hip-hop sayin somethin

Come on say it with me Im talkin' old Bobby Brown before he (?) Whitney
I used bring all my touys in the tub with me
A snotty nose kid eatin boogers
It was Ultimate Warrior and Jimmy Fly Snooka on sometimes I read scriptures like Psalms maybe and I didn't wanna go to church but my moms made me
TV made me laugh
I remember night rider cause Kit used to save his ass Let's go back to spoonin' back to Black Moon and back to when wrestlin' had it's own cartoon and they used to sleep on us now they demand us Will smith told parents they just can't understand us back to playin the dozens back to humpin' our prettiest girl cousin psyche! I'm buggin.
NWA was simply known

Let' get back on the block I'm talkin Quincy Jones
I gotta Jones yall

I'm Number one, one, one, one
Damn it feels good to see hip-hop sayin somethin

Let's go back before I burned the booth when Tevin Campbell was ill before the whole world learned the truth
Hip hop had a message then dudes was droppin
I never got what I wanted on back to school shoppin'
Think about, used to be about shit
That was back when I still got easter outfits
We all grew up all older folks
Its more than just music its a culture folks

We Number one, one, one, one
Damn it feels good to see hip-hop sayin somethin

Remember sugar water what was the name of the fuckin' drink that they said the fuckin triple K
The Klu Klux Klan and shit had put some shit in and The black niggaz were gon' die - huh?
Whatever that was, you niggaz knew about it
