

Dear And Departed, The "Bordering On Ordinary"

Visit "Bordering On Ordinary" on MotoLyrics.com

If I have such an imagination, you'd think I could come up with something better to do.

To keep me feeling.

If I think of a new salvation.

Will you promise me that all the times will end in smiles?

We'll act so secretly.

Let's hide away (hide away)

I hear the weekend calling my name.

If you're whispering a song
& it's a song to sing along
If you hum the tune & hide the gloom
I'll listen carefully.

Can we go straight to a new location
To find an empty room?
There's so much more than the house before
And the light will never creep under the living room door
If you want a better conversation & a pleasant view,
It will be worth your while to stay.
Expectations slip away.
Let's hide away (hide away)
I fear the weekend is coming to stay.

This is all you have, all you have to say
To make it a brighter day.
We can leave behind all these faces grey.
They can't take what we have away.
This is all you have, all you have to say
To make it.

Visit Dear And Departed, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.