Discarded love today, and north will soon become
I lost too much today, so myth will never come

I threw my life away
And for what?
I blew my chances too
I see the bitter truth
I give up

Relinquish all connection, and be yourself for once
Distrusting insurrection, so thank yourself for once

I threw my life away
And for what?
I blew my chances too
I see the bitter truth
I give up

What seems so real today, will soon enough become The thing you've always craved, surely now I've become
I threw my life away
And for what?
I blew my chances too
I see the bitter truth
I give up

I give up

I threw my life away
And for what?
I blew my chances too
I see the bitter truth
I give up

I give up
