

Dear Hunter, The "The Oracles On The Delphi Express"

Visit "The Oracles On The Delphi Express" on MotoLyrics.com

Stick with us, throw your morals out the door
You aren't in the land of the river and the lake no more Makeshift schemes, we've got plenty here for you Lock away your dreams and throw away the key

You've been stuck in the middle of patience and
animosity
With a lust for solidity, and a cryptic history your lucks
running thin

Crimson hands, brandish words which masquerade
If you flee from grace your souls can not be saved
This scene shifts, exits illustrate the flood Don't be ashamed of your unlawful flaw
When the bombs go off you'll know right where you are

You've been stuck in the middle of patience and
animosity
With a lust for solidity, and a cryptic history your lucks
running thin

[Musical Interlude]

You've been stuck in the middle of patience and
animosity
With a lust for solidity, and a cryptic history your lucks
running thin

[Musical outro]

Visit Dear Hunter, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.