"I'm tryna walk a straight path
but they dun say it's hard" -> Klashnekoff

[Doc Brown]

My generation talk of money and ice
They want it all, but they don't wanna learn, read, study or write It's like, see rappers flossin', I don't care what they spend
I'm goin' shoppin' for food and tryna pay rent Needin' bucks for them utility bills Cuz to get ya heat cost enough to give ya the chills I'm bringin' the real deal not a fantasy Still it has to be said that I'd rather be livin' happily ever after instead of disaster Half the youths don't even know which bred is their father
Boys becomin' men without the men around them
And when men are around them they're breakin' in someone's housin'
I came up out the cracks of the pavement, my life is real
Despite that I ain't the type to steal Thinks it's very rare we write to kill
And the mic is still the only weapon that I like to feel
In my firm grip, learn this from other word smiths
Who roam the Earth before the Hell fire burnt it Earn it, even before Tottenham turned mean Toxteth, St Bulls, race riots in Burnley Everybody's Crazy and somebody will get it I stress it, even if Nas already said it Cuz man are actin' like it ain't happenin'
But we always bring it to the surface, that's the power of this rap thing

"In my life" --> The Beatles
"Wickedness is all that I see around me"
"In my life" --> The Beatles

"I'm tryna walk a straight path
but they dun say it's hard" ->Klashnekoff

Rappers like me don't always break through Cuz we dedicate tunes to somethin' you can relate to
I don't know no one wearin' platinum fronts Rollin' through the hood on twenty inch rims, ain't happen once
But I know about ridin' the trains, takin' the bus Plus I know about hidin' the pain, makin' a fuss Packin' my shit and havin' to move Like when my mum started crackin' the whip, I started rappin' for food
Then I learned to make cash in more ways than one Without crime or government time payin' me none
Don't watch me, I'm relentless If I'm rappin' Sundays, Mondays I'll fund raise for young offenders
All my life my eyes been on the grime
Like a target that people wanna sweep under the carpet
The so called rotten eggs, bad apples of the bunch
But that's why our music pack a little punch cuz

"In my life" --> The Beatles

"Wickedness is all that I see around me"

"In my life" --> The Beatles

"I'm tryna walk a straight path
but they dun say it's hard" ->Klashnekoff

Got educated so I bring down the system and over stand it
So if there's a twisted bigger picture I know who planned it
My peers cuss me, sayin, "jeez don't study"
Call me sell-out cause I'm tryna be somebody Sayin', "look if you a rapper you can't chat that shit", what?
"That Martin, Malcolm, Mohammed, flat shit", shut up man
"You need to keep it real, keep it gangster like me", why?
"What's the matter Doc, too much time with wifey?"
Nah listen up, save all that talk for someone who give a fuck
I got avenues, big plans man different stuff
As for you, when all of your rappin' shit dry up You'll be in the greasy spoon cookin' my fry up I'll tell you somethin' straight from the heart Don't let a man try and make you think that you should feel ashamed of bein' smart How are we gonna be embarrassed of that Just because I read a few books doesn't make me and aristocrat

I'm listenin' out for classical rap Gettin' opinions on what it's like to try and be a man if you're black
I feel like every album's lackin' a track Positive, peace, purpose, progress, what happened to that? Cuz

"In my life" --> The Beatles
"Wickedness is all that I see around me"
"In my life" --> The Beatles
"I'm tryna walk a straight path
but they dun say it's hard" ->Klashnekoff
