Aint no crime sittin at the bar
Sippin on a cold draft beer
Or makin small talk to a blue-eyed girl
When she asks, What brought you here?
you're just tryin to unwind on a Friday night

You see that big ol diamond ring
And you don't bother to ask her why
She aint with her man
You aint done nothin wrong
But you aint done nothin right

(Chorus)

Cause the right thing to do is turn yourself around
And point those headlights home
Cause you know it's wrong to carry on
With a woman that aint your own
Right now you're steppin on a razor thin line
That aint quite black or white
You aint done nothin wrong
But you aint done nothin right

Tosses back her hair, looks in your eyes
And says, I like your smile
If danger were a winding road
Then son, you just walked a mile

Then a trouble appears and he's got you in his sight
He grabs temptation by the arm
And says, Girl, it's time to go
You can feel the heat from the fire in his eyes
Cause just like him you know
You aint done nothin wrong
But you aint done nothin right

(Repeat Chorus)

Yeah, right now you're steppin on a razor thin line
That aint quite black or white
You aint done nothin wrong
But you aint done nothin right

You aint done nothin wrong
But you aint done nothin right
Aint done nothin wrong
