It started our first date, I said at seven or maybe eight
You crashed into my world with a boom
You came over as a guest, I said I liked you and I confessed
By ten o'clock I was making fun of you

You stayed for a while then left with a smile
But at least I made you happy
You make me happy too
It's kinda cheesy to say but

You're everything I want
When I'm with you all the hurting stops
You're the hand that fits my glove
And I'll never replace you
'Cause I'll never find love so true

It's only been three days, you're playing the waiting game
And acting cool when we're not together
I drove you home from school, when I'm with you I feel so tool
I wish this feeling would last forever

And I stare into space, my heart starts to race
But at least I've got your picture
You gave me yesterday
It's kinda cheesy to say but

You're everything I want
When I'm with you all the hurting stops
You're the hand that fits my glove
And I'll never replace you
'Cause I'll never find love so true

Looking back at us
Two years and we're going strong
They say that time flies when you're having fun
I never wanna be alone again!

No, no, you're everything I want
When I'm with you all the hurting stops

You're the hand that fits my glove
No, you're everything I want

You're everything I want
And I'll never replace you
'Cause I'll never find love so true
