Intro: Dress me up and I'll wear you down
I'm just a suicide note in a suicide town

Prechorus: Are the rumors really true? If so, I envy you
But you don't really care, this is just a test

V1: There was never ever time to think
When the taste hits your tongue and your knees start to shake
When the smoke hits your lungs and they bend and they break (x3)
Knocked up or knocked out we idolize
Like a character out of a fable
I lay down and close my eyes
Sleep while I'm able

Prechorus: Are the rumors really true? If so, I envy you
But you don't really care, this is just a test

CH: I thought, I thought, that it was over now
I put it simply but you didn't notice how
I thought, I thought that it was over now

V2: You wear your body like a crucifix
It's like your saving grace from the things you miss
It's like you're saving face while the liquid trickles down
Knocked up or knocked out we idolize
Like a character out of a fable
I lay down and close my eyes
Sleep while I'm able

Prechorus: Are the rumors really true? If so, I envy you
But you don't really care, this is just a test

Chorus: I thought, I thought, that it was over now
I put it simply but you didn't notice how
I thought, I thought, that it was over now

Bridge: You said, "don't wanna talk about it"
You said, "it's all lies"
I said, "I wanna talk about it"

I'll break what's mine
