why cant i remember days , years , only moments will live in me im still hearing echos in my memory , which cannot be erased
a part that will live in my heart , things that cannot be left behind

with my arts of love youll shout while i laugh you speak to me
with no honesty
expecting kindness
from my side ill try to show you ill not harm you

sitting alone ,
listening to the sound of silence , feeling my breath gone away im looking backwards to dusted scenses in my mind , in my memories leading me to get stuck in the ellusions of my self blured reality cant proof whats left from the truth i may not show faith to you it may wound your soul

the world may sink visions into me , deep ones that i couldnt understand freezed in a silent moment ill never hope to try it one more time , unless it wears me to live the pain time will help you lies wount save you my light will lead you your fire will kill you...
