brother i need your help im weak and so confused no longer the same person you knew before i left ill wait for the day to come i know youll stand with me youll rise when im done thats when your darkness glows tie your self for the happiness of tomorrow nothings gonna last forever exept sorrow im not the chosen one , theres nothing to follow hold me before i drawn , then wait to be honored this pain is a sign from up , to show your true colors think again of what i said , and throw away your cover
