Somewhere down the line, I went so wrong
Took my love where love did not belong
You know, I never should have strayed
But like a kid, who wants his way
I ran into the night, where fools are kings.

Where fools are kings
Love's the loser
My heart was taken for a ride
Down a street of passion
Where fools are kings.

Well, I ended up in a city filled with class
Where broken hearts are thrown away like trash
And though I didn't know it then
You know I thought I fell in love again
I walked into a trap, where fools are kings.

Where fools are kings
Love's the loser
My heart was taken for a ride
Down a street of passion
Where fools are kings.

I finally gave up trying to live that myth
To straighten up the mess I left her with
You know I thought she'd understand
But all I found was a note by her wedding band
Said, "I left a behind a fool to find a king."

Where fools are kings
Love's the loser
My heart was taken for a ride
Down a street of passion
Where fools are kings.

Where fools are kings.
Where fools are kings.
Where fools are kings...
