Miller time at the bar where all the English meet

She used to drink in the hills only now she drinks in the valleys where every road has a name like Beachwood Avenue, or so it seems a Croydon girl could really hope to find a home but with a thousand miles of real estate to choose from you begin to see the value of your freedom...

The moon is bright in the haze above old Hollywood deer look down from the hills it's three o'clock in the morning pill in hand you can hear his golden surfer boys crying out mummy won't come out of the bathroom and you'd hoped he'd say he's sorry if he hit you but he's buried in the screenplay of his feature

Screen kiss, one screen kiss straight from a film I forget who was in

blue filter lens in a pool of vaseline but all the rushes look the same only there's a movie I wouldn't pay to see again if it's the one with him in

You and I could be a mile above the earth tremors hold to me and we'll climb you could sneak out while he's sleeping suicide in the hills above old Hollywood is never going to change the world never change it overnight any more than the invention of the six-gun any more than the discovery of Radium or California tipping in the ocean
