

Steve Winwood "Slowdown Sundown"

Visit "Slowdown Sundown" on MotoLyrics.com

Sundown coming down too soon
No time to be alone
So I'll take a glass of memories and understand the blues
Oh they're the last thing you'll lose

Slowdown sundown, all I really need is time
For faded love songs and feelings in the wine
Let them take me down the line

Sunrise, a woman's eyes
Good loving one warm afternoon
Here's to all the strong ones who don't care if they win
The kind I'll never see again

Slowdown sundown, give me just a little while
It's not the darkness, it's just the night's so long
Puts the sadness in the song

Here's to someday when someone understands it
Why life keeps turning like a mad thing
Until that someday I'll just play what I have to play
Though I play it alone

Slowdown sundown, all I really need is time
For faded love songs and feelings in the wine
Let them take me down the line

It's going too fast for me
Slowdown sundown, all I really need is time
Just a little bit of time
For faded faded love song
And feelings in the wine
And glasses full of memories
Let 'em take me down tonight

Visit Steve Winwood page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.