You said you couldn't leave me after all that we'd been through
I believed you when you said we should both try something new
I was drowning inside here with a love that was so true
But you laughed right in my face and there was nothing
I could do

Once I took a walk across the hill to see what I could see I saw a light falling from the sky and land beneath a tree
The light it gave was oh, so bright that it took away my care
I ran back to the house to tell you but you were not there

When you've loved someone dearly it's so hard not to regret Memories that have faded, suddenly you can't forget I know I was not dreaming when you walked right out the door
Just a feeling that told me my love was gone for evermore

When you think you've found the key, the door just slips away
And so you walk the floor all night until the break of day Somewhere in your mind you know that things will be alright
Because everything in life is equal just like the day and night

You said you couldn't leave me after all that we'd been through
I believed you when you said that we should both try something new Something new
