Del Monte and the Maraschinos)

Now Samson came to Lehi

The Philistines appeared

And when they saw him waiting

They shouted and they jeered

But the Spirit of the Lord

Came on Samson yet again

All at once his bonds burst into flame

And melted from his hands

Now he saw an ass's jawbone

That was lying at his feet

And since it wasn't old and brittle

It would serve him quite a treat

He put out his hand and seized it

Now that he was free again

And with the jawbone of an ass

He slew a thousand men

"With the jawbone of an ass
I've made asses out of them
With the jawbone of an ass
You know I've slain a thousand men"
And with those words he'd spoken
He let the jawbone lie
And the place where Samson left it
Was called "Ramoath Lehi"
And if you don't speak the lingo
Then let me translate for you
It means, "The hill of the jawbone"
Where God gave victory to
