This blindfold you forced me to wear It's made of your lies and your empty words but now I disabuse my self from you And it will be all all that is spared all that's spared and left behind Sightless I followed you protest unthinkable Moving is difficult when over my heart you ruled You called it a proof of love
Called it my honesty Always reminding me
Of the way that you're treating me
And still you re acting the fool for me
But I won't swallow your lies no more Love needs faith to exist
Of course you knew that I Couldn't resist as you told me to testify
And I promised to swallow each lie
And still you're acting the fool for me
But I won't swallow your lies no more Cause I have seen your rotten heart
Your condescending mind and it opened my eyes Now that I know what you really are I won't let you into my heart again to make it rotten like yours
Only parts of words
Remain in my mind
Yes It still hurts
To see what I left behind But I know I got to be free
