Listen up....

There's a new sound on the streets

Never thought it would come to this

Legends, tales and wrong held beliefs

Everyone revealing another twist

Chorus

Its like a short term sugar high

More poison than a bee can sting

But sharper than an eagles eye

It don't regret one single thing

Like a short term sugar high

Hits harder than a baseball swing

However careful one might imply

It don't regret one single thing

It'll seduce you with that wicked smile

Which surprises them who do not know

At times it can be quite hostile

Delivering a fatal blow

(repeat Chorus - last verse - then chorus again)
